Introducing Honeywell's New Piezo Dynamic Sirens

Since Honeywell's new Wave2PD and 747PD draw only 1/4 the current of traditional versions, you can install multiple sirens on every installation. In addition to providing a great upsell opportunity, the low current draw lets you power multiple sounders on select VISTA controls without having to add any additional hardware. What's more, there are no wires to splice, and the sleek, easy-to-install devices are ideal for any residential application. Sounds like a great opportunity to us!
