

think small

The 5805-6 Six-Button Wireless Remote Control.
Small in Size...Big in Value.

An ideal upsell opportunity, Honeywell's new 5805-6 is compact enough to carry on a keychain. It helps dealers add value to each and every sale by offering convenient, single-button control of lighting and garage doors with up to eight functions. What's more, the sleek new design—which features concave keys for a more tactile feel, two-button panics and an LED that indicates transmission status and low-battery condition—can actually help reduce false alarms.

Who would have thought something so small could make such a big difference when it comes to convenience...and opportunity?

Honeywell

For additional information, please call 1-800-467-5875, or visit www.honeywell.com/security/hsc

© 2008 Honeywell International Inc. All rights reserved.