

partner of choice

Protection One Chooses Honeywell

A digital evolution is changing the security marketplace. Protection One, one of the security industry's largest monitoring security companies in North America, wanted to ensure that they were providing their customers with the latest advancements. That's why they selected Honeywell as their Partner of Choice. Working together, they designed e-Secure<sup>SM</sup>, an innovative RMR service that puts home and business security at the customers' fingertips. With e-Secure – through Internet and wireless communications – users can remotely manage their security and receive notifications of personal events through laptops, cell phones or PDA devices. Today, they can offer their nearly three-quarters of a million customers more convenience and control than ever before. The result? More opportunity for Protection One.

Honeywell

For additional information, please call 1-800-467-5875, or visit www.honeywell.com/security.

Pictured from left to right: Gary Marcinkowski - Protection One Regional Vice President, West Region; Dave Williams - Protection One Regional Vice President, Southeast Region; Ron Rothman - President, Honeywell Security & Communications; Ray DeZarate - Protection One Regional Vice President, Northeast Region; Paul Straten - Protection One Regional Vice President, Southwest Region.

© 2008 Honeywell International Inc. All rights reserved.