Get the Skinny on Honeywell's 5878 Portable Wireless Wall Transmitter

Honeywell's exciting new 5878 Six-Button Wireless Wall Transmitter is the best upsell opportunity out there. Sleek and super thin, it blends seamlessly with any décor. But it's no lightweight in the features department! It's completely portable, arms and disarms security systems and can control lights and operate garage doors with the press of a button from absolutely anywhere in the home—with a range of up to 200 feet! What's more, it's incredibly easy to install. It programs exactly like other 5800 Series devices and mounts on a standard electrical box or directly on the wall.

Think your customers can get anything like this from the competition? Fat chance.
