

talk about opportunity!

Discover the Value of Voice

Honeywell's Voice Keypads let you easily add voice to any VISTA control, providing you with a great upsell opportunity! They actually talk to the homeowner—providing security system status and zone information in clear, spoken English (i.e. "AWAY" or "STAY"). A host of convenient, user-friendly features make security system operation easier than ever, and they'll have all of your customers talking. Best of all, there's no additional hardware to buy or wires to run—saving you time and money while adding value to each and every sale. Sounds like a great opportunity to us.
