Congratulations on a dream come true.

As you watch the dream become reality, you're busy thinking about all the details that will make your house a home. This is also the time to think about security, comfort and convenience. Before the walls go up, your home needs another foundation – one that will ensure that it's ready for the future.

Your Connected Home

As electronic lifestyles become more common, it's more important than ever to make sure your home can meet all your technological needs. Structured wiring enables you to put the most advanced home wiring and networking technologies into simple, affordable, upgradeable solutions that entertain, protect and inform. One multi-function panel can integrate security, the Internet, cable and satellite television, telephone, video, audio, HVAC and lighting. Your dream home will be ready for today's world and tomorrow's advancements.

Safe & Secure

Protect your home and family from the threats of burglary and fire. Our state-of-the-art systems include sensors and transmitters strategically placed throughout your home. From door and window sensors, to motion detectors that know the difference between an intruder and the family pet, and a host of accessory devices, safety and security have never been more convenient. Your system is connected to a central station to provide 24-hour a day monitoring of your home. Fire, police or emergency personnel can be quickly summoned to your home. After all, what's more important than getting help when you need it most?

Entertainment

Bring your home to life and enjoy it to the fullest with an unrivaled entertainment experience! When you equip your home with home theater surround sound and multi-room video, everyone can watch their favorite satellite, cable or high definition TV in different rooms at the same time.

Enjoy the rich, full sounds of whole-house audio by listening to your favorite CD in any room of the house – not just where the stereo is located. You can have music with the highest sound quality piped into entryways, kitchens, bedrooms, offices, living rooms, or anywhere you desire.

Communications

Plug into your dreams! With structured wiring solutions, your family can take advantage of everything the Internet and technology have to offer. Your home will have the infrastructure that allows you to interconnect computers and gaming devices throughout the home. And by networking printers, scanners and sharing files across a home network, you can reduce the number of devices needed while still giving everyone in the home access to a complete system.

Structured wiring also allows for simultaneous online access in multiple locations with just a single connection. One parent can check movie times in one room while the other downloads a recipe and a child does research for a school paper. No more having to take turns or argue about time on the Internet. Having a home network also means that any room can be a home office when you need it. Your home will truly be plug and play! It's time to get connected.
