GSM Rebate for AMPS Radio Replacements Ends June 1, 2008

Honeywell's rebate program has been in effect since 2006. Its intention was to help support our dealers during the transition from analog to digital radios as per the FCC's AMPS Sunset Clause. The Sunset Clause went into effect on February 18, 2008.

As the analog to digital transition draws to a close with the vast majority of analog radios having been replaced, Honeywell will end the GSM $30 rebate program on June 1, 2008.

You can still take advantage of the rebate if you haven't replaced all of your analog radios yet. We will accept rebate requests until June 1, 2008, so act now! To apply for the rebate or to learn more about it, visit our website at www.alarmnet.com and click on the link on right side for the GSM rebate procedure or form.

For additional questions regarding Honeywell's rebate program, please contact our customer care department at 1-800-573-0154.

Thank you for choosing Honeywell.
