Introducing Honeywell's new LYNX Touch...a brilliant way to light up your sales.

The dazzling, full-color touchscreen and intuitive graphic icons aren't the only things that are brilliant about Honeywell's LYNX Touch. The industry's sleekest, coolest self-contained control can help you win more business by offering today's consumers what they really want...information and control at their fingertips. The large, easy-to-read display makes operation, installation and programming a snap. You'll spend less time training end-users as well as new and experienced installers. LYNX Touch is great for new installs and upgrades—letting you provide next-generation interactive security as well as RMR-generating services like Total Connect™ and two-way voice over GSM. You can also grow your business with Connected Home solutions that use Z-Wave® technology, which offers thermostat setback and basic lighting control.* Best of all, you'll have the power and stability of Honeywell behind you. What could be more brilliant than that?

Incredibly innovative. Surprisingly simple. LYNX Touch.
